Care for Child Development

Points to remember...

Children have the right to life, survival, and development. Early care and learning helps to start children on the path to develop their full potential.

Every child must have a good start in life with a nurturing, caring, and safe environment – to survive, be physically healthy, mentally alert, emotionally secure, socially competent, and able to learn.

A child’s survival, growth and development depend on the care and nurturing the child receives within the family and community. Parents are their first teachers.

The most important stage in child development is the period between gestation to 6 years, with rapid motor, cognitive, sensory, social and emotional development during the birth to 3 year period.

Family counselling on care helps mothers, fathers, and other caregivers support their child’s healthy development. The quality of caregiver interaction with a child can affect child survival and development.

Providing timely early intervention and support for children with developmental delays or disabilities and their families can prevent their difficulties from becoming more severe – helping to reach their full potential and avoid increased poverty and exclusion.
Recommendations for Care for Child Development

- Give your child affection and show your love
- Be aware of your child's interests and respond to them
- Praise your child for trying to learn new skills

NEWBORN, BIRTH UP TO 1 WEEK
Your baby learns from birth

PLAY
Provide ways for your baby to see, hear, move arms and legs freely, and touch you. Gently soothe, stroke and hold your child. Skin to skin is good.

COMMUNICATE
Look into baby’s eyes and talk to your baby. When you are breastfeeding is a good time. Even a newborn baby sees your face and hears your voice.

1 WEEK UP TO 6 MONTHS
Provide ways for your child to see, hear, feel, move freely, and touch you. Slowly move colourful things for your child to see and reach for. Sample toys: shaker rattle, big ring on a string.

Smile and laugh with your child. Talk to your child. Get a conversation going by copying your child’s sounds or gestures.

6 MONTHS UP TO 9 MONTHS
Give your child clean, safe household things to handle, bang, and drop. Sample toys: containers with lids, metal pot and spoon.

Respond to your child’s sounds and interests. Call the child’s name, and see your child respond.

9 MONTHS UP TO 12 MONTHS
Hide a child’s favourite toy under a cloth or box. See if the child can find it. Play peek-a-boo.

Tell your child the names of things and people. Show your child how to say things with hands, like “bye bye”. Sample toy: doll with face.

12 MONTHS UP TO 2 YEARS
Give your child things to stack up, and to put into containers and take out. Sample toys: Nesting and stacking objects, container and clothes clips.

Ask your child simple questions. Respond to your child’s attempts to talk. Show and talk about nature, pictures and things.

2 YEARS AND OLDER
Help your child count, name and compare things. Make simple toys for your child. Sample toys: Objects of different colours and shapes to sort, stick or chalk board, puzzle.

Encourage your child to talk and answer your child’s questions. Teach your child stories, songs and games. Talk about pictures or books. Sample toy: book with pictures.
Counsel the Family about Problems in Care for Child Development

If the mother does not breastfeed, counsel the mother, father or caregiver to:
- Hold the child close when feeding, look at the child, and talk or sing to the child.

If caregivers do not know what the child does to play or communicate:
- Remind caregivers that children play and communicate from birth.
- Explain that play is one important way children learn and develop.
- Demonstrate how the child responds to activities.

If caregivers have no toys for the child to play with, counsel them to:
- Use any household objects that are clean and safe.
- Make simple toys.
- Play with the child. The child will learn by playing with the caregivers and other people.

If the child is not responding, or seems slow:
- Ask caregiver and observe to see whether the child has problems seeing or hearing. Check if unsure.
- Encourage the family to do extra play and communication activities with the child.
- Encourage the family to play and communicate with the child through touch and movement, as well as through language.
- Refer the child with difficulties to special services - along with providing information and encouragement to caregivers.

If the mother or father has to leave the child with someone else for a period of time:
- Identify at least one adequate or prepared person who can care for the child regularly, and give the child love and attention.
- Get the child used to being with the new person gradually.
- Encourage parents to spend time with the child when possible.

If caregivers feel that they do not have time to play and communicate with the child:
- Encourage them to combine play and communication activities with other care for the child.
- Explain how they can arrange the child’s environment to play, communicate and learn near them while they work at home.
- Ask other family members to help care for the child or help with chores.

If caregivers feel too burdened or stressed to play and communicate with the child:
- Listen to the caregivers feelings, and help them identify a key person who can share their feelings and help them with their child.
- Build their confidence by demonstrating their ability to carry out a simple activity.
- Encourage fathers to get involved.
- Refer caregivers to a local service, if needed and available.
